Volume XXXV

Foreword

The year 1858 was one of uncertainty and indecision. Everywhere people were discussing secession and slavery. However, despite the turmoil throughout the country, men of vision and understanding realized the necessity of providing better facilities for secondary education in Mount Vernon. That year the foundation for what was to become the first high school in the city was started on the grounds where the present high school is located.

Today, one hundred years later, there are still men and women with the same vision and purpose who are looking forward to even greater achievements in the present educational system, and planning for better schools for the boys and girls of the community.

As we step across the threshold of another century, let us take time to reflect on the past and look into the faces and read about the high school life of our ancestors. If we look through the roster of all the graduates from Mount Vernon High School, we will find that the names of several families appear through four or five generations; and many of us will take pride in looking at pictures of our pretty grandmothers as they appeared in their lace ruffled dresses on commencement day fifty years ago. Nostalgically we may recall some of our own happy times at entertainments or athletic contests.

To thank everyone who has helped with the publication of this book would be impossible. All the men and women who were asked to give us the slightest information, did so willingly and enthusiastically. There were those who worked so diligently on the roster of graduates, and those who provided pictures and historical material. Because of lack of funds and space much of the material sent in could not be used. We thank those who helped with the mailing lists and proof reading.

We appreciate the work of the present Forum staff who worked so industriously on their part of the book while the centennial editor delved into the archives. Our apologies go to the faculty who were patient about interruptions of photographers and subscription agents.

We would like to thank all the people who telephoned or wrote letters commending this project. Through those media many pleasant acquaintances were made and old friendships renewed.

Last but not least we want to thank all those who had faith enough in the centennial venture to pay in advance for a book that had not even gone to press.

We sincerely hope that the realization is equal to the anticipation.

Our First Hundred Years

When we glance casually each day at the million dollar building that houses our present high school, we can scarcely believe that education in Mount Vernon began in 1808 in a log cabin on the Public Square under the instruction of one teacher for all grades and subjects.

This history is intended to cover just the part the high school has played in our educational system, but we must give a little of the background of county and city schools in order to understand our present secondary school system.

Although Mount Vernon was laid out in 1805, it was not established as a county seat until 1808.

The people who settled the community felt the need of educating their children, so a one-room log cabin was built on the south west corner of the Public Square where Heckler's Drug Store now stands. This room was fourteen by sixteen feet square and was heated only by a large fireplace.

The building contained a teacher's desk and slab benches facing crude wooden shelves attached to the wall which served as desks. The pupils faced the wall and sat with their backs to the teacher.

For the privilege of receiving this education, the pupils paid a small tuition fee to defray the expenses of the teacher's salary and fuel for the fireplace.

The first teacher whose name has been recorded was Thomas Irving in 1811.

This little building gradually deteriorated and a market place was built in its place.

As the population increased, it became imperative to build a school; and a committee was appointed by the citizens to collect volunteer contributions to purchase a school site.

Two lots on the north east corner of North Mulberry and West High Streets were purchased from John Williamson of Lancaster, August 23, 1817, and a small two story building was erected on them.

Because the Masonic Order had been instrumental in raising funds for the new structure, they insisted on occupying the second story of the building as a lodge room.

Again just one room was used for school purposes.

When this building was finished, no money was left for plastering or furnishing it, so once more the slab benches and wall desks were used. Joseph Chapman was the only teacher employed.

On Sunday the room was used by various religious groups who had no churches of their own.

Finally Henry Curtis, Esquire, was successful in raising enough money for furnishing the little building.

This was the first free school in Mount Vernon, and it was not very popular; consequently, a number of private schools were started.

By an act of Legislature in 1845, Mount Vernon was incorporated and divided into five separate wards or school districts.

The mayor and the councilmen from each ward acted as the school board, and the members of this first council were James Smith, Jr., Johnston Elliott, Job Evans, Rollin Hurd, Henry B. Curtis, Esquire, and Charles Cooper. The board agreed to pay the teacher the sum of twenty-two dollars a month and furnish the school room with desks, chairs, and fuel.

Some members of council were impressed with the Akron system of operating schools and adopted a similar one for Mount Vernon.

A petition signed by 333 voters was brought to council asking to appoint a regular school board which would provide better school facilities for the fast-growing city of Mount Vernon.

This was done and C. P. Buckingham, Abel Hart, Job Evans, Jonathan Burr, James Young, Henry B. Curtis, and Samuel Israel were appointed school directors in 1849.

This board petitioned council to levy a tax for the purpose of building schools including a "Grand Central" one for the teaching of higher branches of learning.

The people of Knox County became alarmed at the anticipation of such high taxes, and in 1850 an act was passed exempting the town of Mount Vernon from Knox County.

The school board was dissolved and the management of schools again reverted to the mayor and councilmen.

The amount of $2,879.58 which had been collected for schools was distributed by council to wards. Each ward held meetings and with approximately $500 in each treasury, decided to levy taxes for the building of a school house in each district.

Petitions were now brought to council asking that they provide facilities for teaching high school subjects, and an ordinance was passed to "provide for appointment and election" of a board of education consisting of six members.

The first meeting of this regular board of education was held in April, 1856, and those present were Walter Smith, Samuel Israel, Henry Warden, Mark Curtis, Levi Ward, and Jacob Lybrand. From this time until the present day school administration passed forever out of the hands of council.

The board elected to spend $10,000 for the erection of a central school building, and they paid George True $4,500 for eight lots on the west side of North Mulberry Street between West Hamtramck and West Burgess Streets.

They also agreed to pay a maximum salary of $40 a month to male teachers and $25 for female instructors. This was considered quite a raise over the $22 formerly paid.

On May 4, 1857, the Board resolved: "As the sense of this Board, that it is expedient to erect a school edifice sufficiently large to accommodate all the scholars of the city, should it hereafter be thought for the interest of the city to concentrate the entire system in one building . . ."

Auld and Miller, architects, designed a plan for a Union Central Building and bids were opened October, 1857. The bid of Henry Huller and Joseph Gardner was accepted, and the school was to be completed before August, 1859.

The cost of the building including the lots and furniture came to $50,000.

Although the school was begun in 1858, it was not ready for occupancy until October, 1859.

For a time all the pupils of the city except those in the primary grades attended this large central building. As ward structures were completed, the central building was finally converted into just a high school.

The school year was ten months long divided into three terms. Besides the subjects now taught in high school, such impressive names as zoology, astronomy, geology, intellectual philosophy, moral philosophy, and elocution were in the curriculum. French and Greek were added if there was sufficient demand for them. The first commercial courses were offered about 1870 under the management of Captain H. Stevens.

By 1897, the Central Building which had been erected on the corner of North Mulberry and West Hamtramck Streets had become too small for high school purposes, and another building was erected on the corner of North Mulberry and West Burgess Streets. No attempt was made to follow the type of architecture of the first building, but they were connected by a corridor. One of the outstanding features of this new structure was the large central hall into which the rooms on the first floor opened and the big fireplace at one end of the hall.

Finally the school population soon out-grew these two buildings and wooden garage-like buildings were built at the rear to house industrial arts and home economics.

By 1925 the fact became apparent that Mount Vernon must have a modern high school. So the old Central School was razed, and in its place the west wing of the present high school was erected.

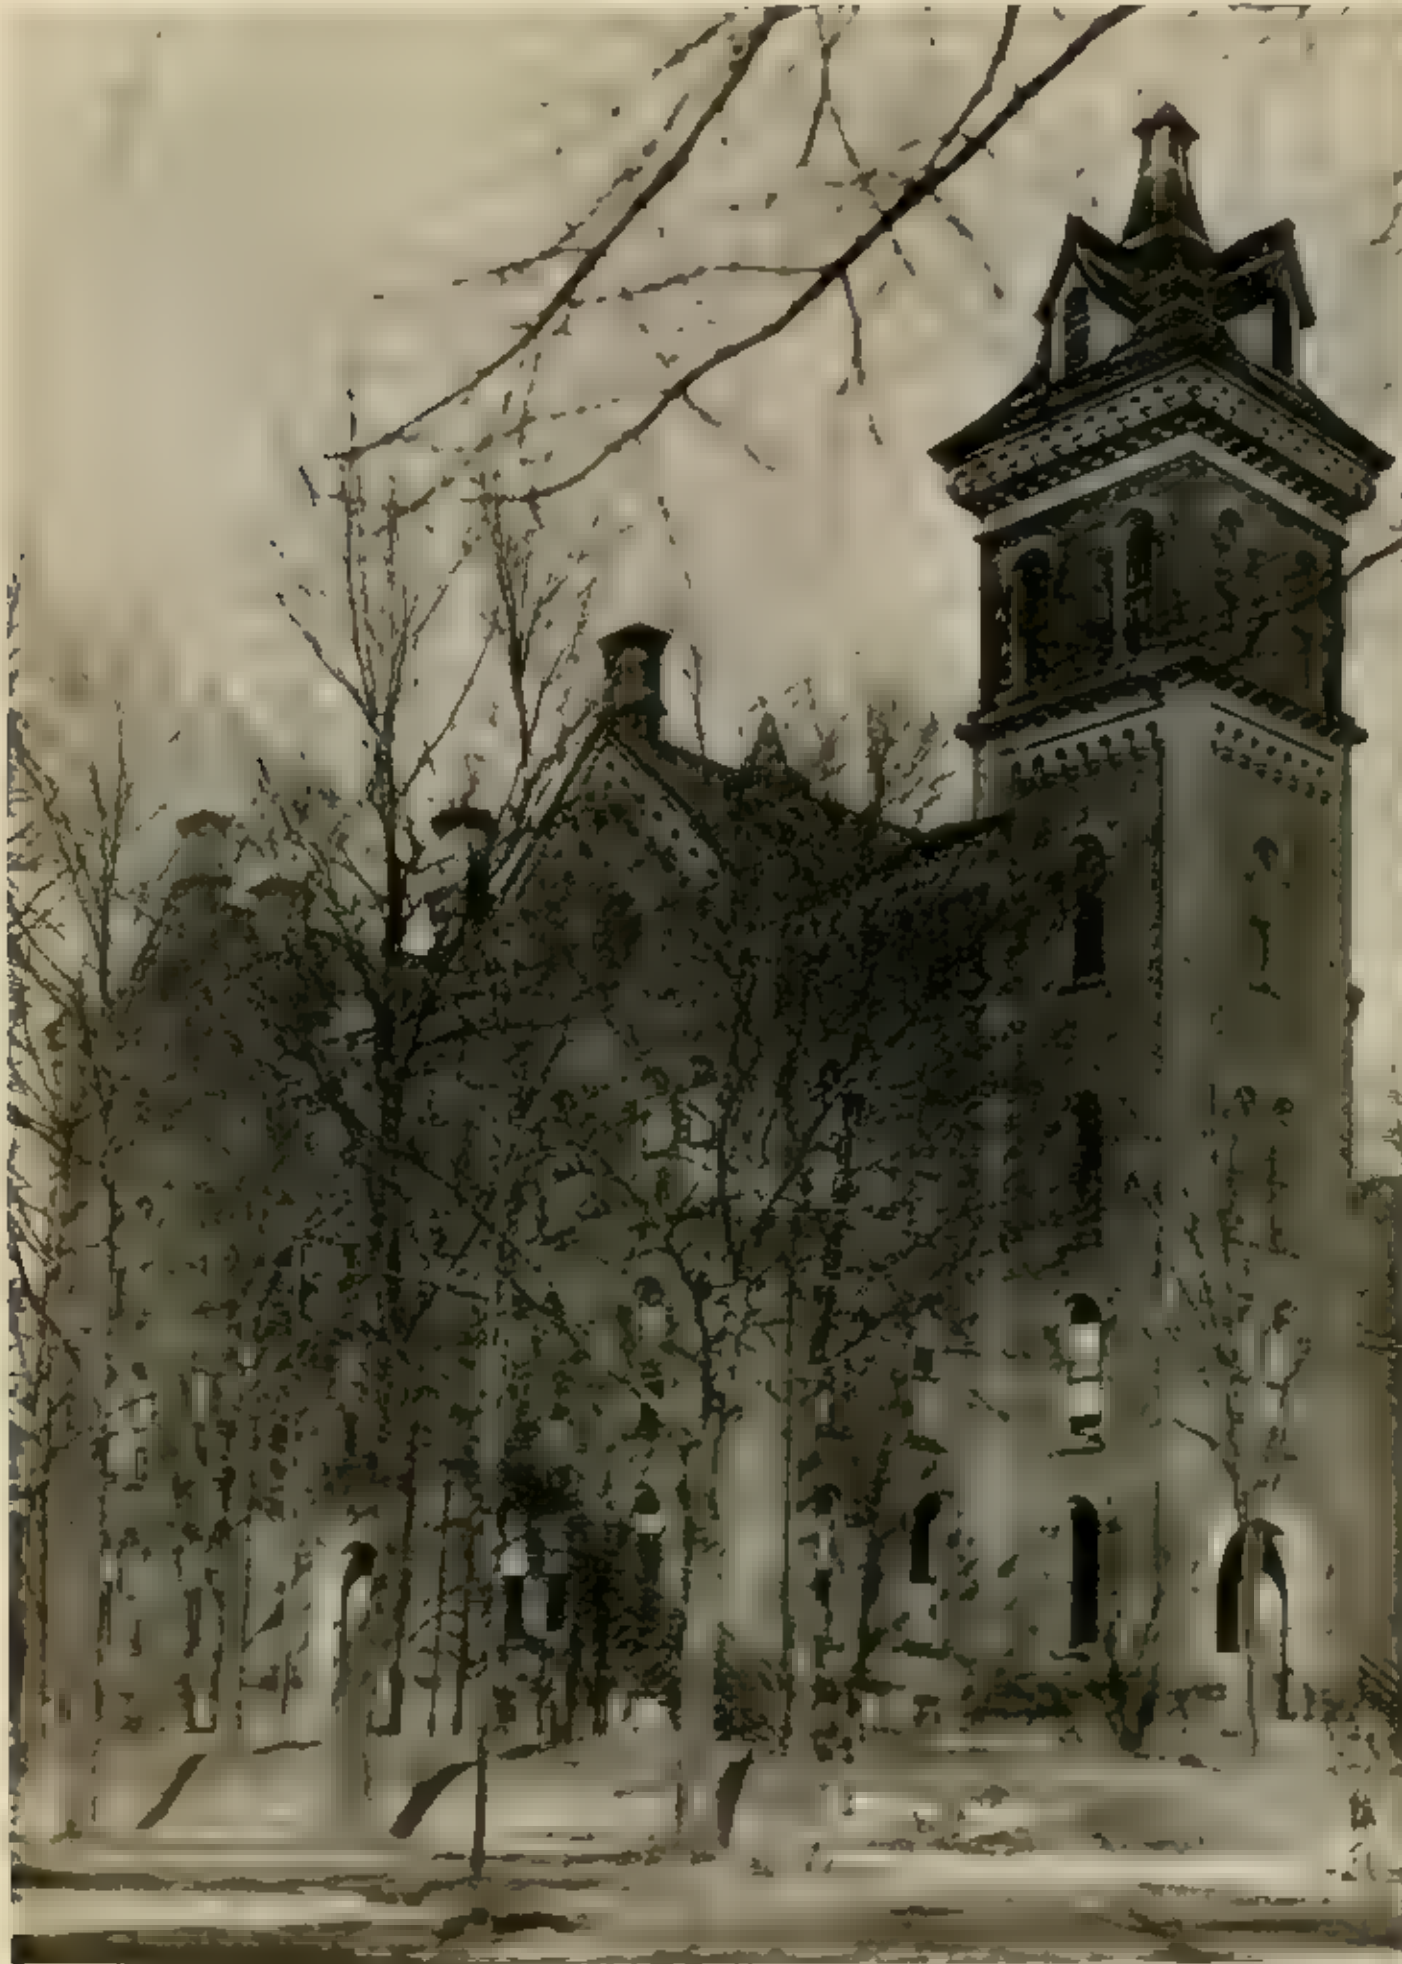

The building on the corner of West Burgess and North Mulberry was still in good condition despite its wooden floors and stairways, and it was converted into Mount Vernon's first junior high school bringing together all the seventh and eighth graders of the city into one school. This was done in 1927.

In 1928 a combination auditorium and gymnasium was added to the rear of the high school. Both boys and girls used the gym and for the first time a girls' physical education program was introduced as a part of the curriculum. Sara Cannon was employed as girls' physical education director, and Angus King was hired as boys' physical education instructor and coach of all teams with no assistant coaches.

In 1938 the voters approved a $360,000 bond issue for the building of the present high school. The erecting of this edifice necessitated the razing of the junior high school, and both junior and senior high school classes were taught in one building. This new building contained a boys' gym, art and photography rooms, well equipped home economics rooms including a social room for small teas and dinners, a regular journalism room, a commercial area including a school bank, laboratories for chemistry, physics, biology and general science, visual aid facilities, music room, and a complete vocational agriculture department. By 1954 the 100 piece school band and the industrial arts section had out-

Mount Vernon's first high school building, known as the Central Building, was situated at the corner of North Mulberry and West Hamtramck Streets. It was completed in 1859 and razed in 1925 so that the west wing of the present high school building might be erected. On the third floor of this building was a very large room which was used as a gym, but was later converted into a large study hall. The teacher sat on a raised platform in the middle of the front of the room. There were two classrooms at the rear of this large room and the only access to them was through the study hall. Usually there were a number of students going and coming through this room all the time.

This high school building was situated on the corner of Mulberry and Burgess Streets. It was built in 1897 and razed in 1938 when the present building was erected. From 1927 to 1938 it was used as the Junior High Building.

The Men Who Have Guided Our Destinies

In 1858 there were not more than five students in the high school, so the superintendent of schools added the duties of high school principal to his schedule. The list of superintendents is complete, but we are not sure about the principals. The first principal's name that appears in any history is that of Mr. M. A. Yarnell in 1884. That year there were only eight graduates, so we assume that Mr. Yarnell was the first high school principal.

We were interested in noticing the fact that in our first hundred years there have been the same number of superintendents and principals. Several principals moved into the superintendency after they had been principals.

The Years Have Brought Changes In School Rules and Regulations

The Mount Vernon Board of Education published a booklet in 1884 called a "Manual and Annual Report." This included a history of the educational system in the city, a list of all the graduates, a complete curriculum of all grades, and some general rules. Some of the regulations are not very much different from those of the schools today; however, we were amused as we made some comparisons with the present curriculum.

Both written and oral examinations were given in all grades including the primary ones at the end of each term. The pupil's promotion depended on the passing of these examinations. Pupils could be promoted to a higher grade any time during the school year if — "upon strict examination he was found competent to do the work of a higher grade."

DUTIES OF THE SUPERINTENDENT

"The Superintendent shall have regular office hours from 8:30 to 9:30 a. m., and from 1:10 to 2:10 p. m. He shall be in the office, halls, or on the playgrounds during recess unless called away by important business connected with the schools.

"He shall not leave the city during school sessions except by permission of the Board of Education.

"He shall prepare all questions for written examinations, and oversee the grading of pupils on the same.

"He shall direct the teachers as to the best methods of instruction and government, giving special attention to those of primary grades who have had little experience in the profession. He shall carefully note the modes of government and instruction pursued by each teacher; and whenever he doubts the qualifications, efficiency, or fitness of a teacher, he shall report the same, promptly and distinctly to the Board."

DUTIES OF TEACHERS

"Teachers are expected to attend Teachers' Institute either in this city or some other city or county at least once a year unless prevented by illness.

"Teachers shall require cleanliness of person and dress, neatness, obedience, and order from all pupils.

"Teachers shall give special attention to the thorough ventilation of their school rooms, and keep them as near as possible at a uniform temperature.

"The clocks in various rooms shall be kept with the bell in the high school building. All teachers must be in their school rooms at the first ringing of the bell.

"The morning session of each school shall be opened by the reading of a portion of scripture and a prayer.

"Each teacher shall prepare a program of the daily exercises. She shall keep the same in her room, and shall furnish a neat copy to the superintendent within two weeks after the beginning of each term, and shall give him notice of any change made therein."

DUTIES OF PUPILS

"It shall be the duty of every pupil to render strict obedience to the authorities of the school, and anyone failing to do the same shall be excluded from the school.

"Pupils will not be permitted to use tobacco in any form or have it in their possession about the school premises.

"All slates must be covered to prevent noise and damage to the desks.

"Pupils shall walk quietly and in single file up and down the stairs, and through the halls making no unnecessary noise or engaging in conversation.

"They shall not bring to school books, papers, or anything else not required by their studies.

"Pupils must not collect about school buildings before the first ringing of the bell.

"They shall not remain in the halls, stairways, or on the walks.

"They shall leave the school premises, and go directly home after the close of school, unless detained by the teacher.

"Balls, toys, and other playthings are strictly prohibited from the play grounds and premises.

"Any pupil receiving ten marks for misconduct shall be reported to the Superintendent. If he receives ten demerits in one term, he shall be suspended.

"Absence from examinations or rhetorical exercises without reasons satisfactory to the Superintendent cannot be allowed."

DUTIES OF THE JANITORS

"They shall sweep and dust each school room twice a week. The basements where the children play and eat their dinners shall be swept once in two weeks.

"They shall kindle fires when necessary, separate the coal from the ashes, and see that the ashes, slag, and cinders are removed from the premises.

"They shall keep yards and privies clean and in good order.

"They shall wind up and keep all clocks in good order.

"They shall sprinkle the yard and street in hot weather, and see that the water is let off from the water pipes in winter.

"Provide water for teachers and pupils morning and afternoon.

"They shall ring bells according to schedules.

"They shall notify members of the Board, of Board meetings, and carry messages that shall be necessary for the good of the schools."

GENERAL RULES

"School hours shall be from 8.55, a.m. until 4:30, p.m.

"The school bell shall be rung for five minutes at 8:30, 8:50, 1:10, 1:25, and at the close of both school sessions.

"In no case shall a pupil be kept in school for more than five minutes after the ringing of the bell at the close of the school session.

"Non-resident pupils shall be charged two dollars a month for attending high school.

"Schools shall be graded as follows: High School course, four years; Grammar School, two years; the three Secondaries and Intermediate, one year each; and the Primary two years.

"Recess is for the purpose of thoroughly ventilating the rooms as well as to furnish exercise for the pupils. Teachers are required to open windows and doors, and to keep a careful supervision of the pupils on the playgrounds. No pupil will be allowed to remain in the room during recess, except the girls in the high school, unless the weather is inclement."

LEFT: Until 1892 a covered bridge spanned the Kokosing River. This was the only way to enter Mount Vernon from the south. When the Commissioners decided to construct a new bridge, most of them wanted to make it the width of two buggies. Thomas Vannatta would not sign any contracts until the rest of the commissioners voted to make it as wide as it is today. Imagine five o'clock traffic going across the present viaduct if it were just the width of two buggies!

Bells rang out wildly as a new century was ushered in. This was to be known as "The Century of Progress." Between 1910 and 1930, debating was a popular subject in the high school. Triangular debates were held with Newark, Zanesville, Cambridge and other cities in Central Ohio. People looked forward to the nights on which debates were to be held, and usually the auditorium was filled. There was always great excitement when our team won, and the cheerleaders were on hand to arouse enthusiasm in the crowd. The last debating team contest was held about 1931, and Ruth Domigan-Truxall was the coach.

History of Publications in Mount Vernon High School

THE FORUM — THE JACKET JOURNAL

Mrs. Robert Baldwin, Class of 1899, has preserved the first high school publication of which we have any record. Two numbers were issued by the senior class of 1898. These were called "The Tattler," and the editorial staff of the first number consisted of Ruth Bogardus, Editor-in-Chief; Robert Armstrong, Managing Editor; M. C. Starr, Local Editor; and George Kingsbury, Business Manager.

"The Tattler" contained little school news as we know it today. There was a long description of Celia Henley's trip to the Philadelphia Navy Yard, a whole column by Louie Wythe was devoted to the business conditions in the United States; a long description of a trip to Bangs that the geology class took was one of the most interesting items; and there were two columns by George Kingsbury on the political situation of the country.

An election of officers for the Junior Literary Society resulted as follows: President, Zenno Taylor; Vice-President, Walter Anderson; Secretary, Willie Arnold; and Treasurer, Willie Allen. The officers of the Senior Literary Society were President, Lou Wythe; Vice-President, Florence Westlake; Secretary, Ruth Bogardus, and Treasurer, Clinton Smith. Ila Williams was the Censor.

At a meeting of the Senior Literary Society the subject was "American Humorists." Ruth Bogardus read an essay on "American Humorists;" Gertrude Parr read from Washington Irving's "Knickerbocker History of New York;" Florence Westlake read a passage from "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table;" Paul Brent recited "The Heathen Chinese;" Newton Anderson read an essay on "A Fable for Critics" by James Russell Lowell; Harry Parrott, read from "Huckleberry Finn;" and Ila Williams recited "The One Hoss Shay." This program was followed by a debate on "Resolved: That Humorous Literature is more Effective for Good Than Serious."

After 1898 no more papers were published until 1905. Then a booklet was started known as the "Forum," and was published every other month. Curtis Kinney, now manager of the J. S. Ringwalt Company, was on the staff in 1905, and he became the Editor-in-Chief the second quarter and continued in this position the rest of the year. The booklets consisted mostly of literary works, some athletic news, and a few jokes.

The "Forum" continued in booklet form until 1921. In the spring of that year the first year book, known as the "Hi-Log" was published. There were two volumes printed under this name. The name

"Hi-Log" was chosen because "Hi" was the popular abbreviation for high school, and the meaning of "Log" is derived from use of a ship's log to record a vessel's history.

Virginia Alsdorf Garrouette was the first editor and Gladys Hadley Baker was the adviser. This book was the first one which included individual pictures of seniors, groups of all other classes, pictures of athletic teams, clubs, and snap candid pages. The girls' club was called the Athenaeum, and the president the first semester was Mary Ransom Fletcher. The president during the second semester was Martha Davis.

The boys' club was known as the Delphi, and there were more than sixty members in this group. The president the first semester was Geoffrey Errett, and the president the second semester was Brice Greer.

Miss Marie Richter was director of the Boys' and the Girls' Glee Clubs, and Mr. Henry Levy was director of the fourteen piece orchestra. The athletic coach was Mr. Ray Michaels, an uncle of Mrs. Imogene Montgomery.

In 1923 the annual was again called the "Forum" and is still published under that name. During the depression years lack of funds stopped the publication of a year book. According to the "Forum" files no book was published in 1930, 1932, or 1933. A small annual was published in 1934, and "The Forum" has been published every year since.

From 1923 to 1925 the high school literary booklet was continued, then it became a newspaper also known as "The Forum." The first editor was William Ackerman, and the Business Manager was James Alsdorf.

Having two publications under the same name was confusing, and in 1938 a contest was held by the "Forum" newspaper staff to change the name. Joe Hantman won with the name "Jacket Journal." Since then the paper has been known as "The Jacket Journal," and the yearbook as "The Forum." Don Dowds was the first editor of "The Jacket Journal." The high school paper has been published every year since 1925 except between the years 1930 and 1935. Sara Cannon has been the adviser since 1936, and C. A. Cassell has been business manager since 1935. Former advisers include Gladys Hadley-Baker, Helen Colville-Sevitts, and Mary Leonard-Dowds-Ridenour.

This was the first scholarship team that Mount Vernon entered in competition with other high schools of the district of Ohio State University. This 1930 team had the honor of placing first in the district.

Today more than fifty students take part in these scholarship tests at Denison University every spring.

During the past ten years, Mount Vernon has had three national first places in French. Those who won this honor were William Transue, Jacques Transue, and Charles Williams. First places in state scholarship competition were won in French by William Transue, Perry Williams, Hannah Mautner, and Charles Williams. William Transue also placed first in the state in biology.

There were some state winners previous to this time, but no records were available. Many Mount Vernon High students have placed first in district scholarship tests in various subjects.

The Smart Set of 1927

THE MOUNT VERNON CHAPTER OF THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

In 1927 Mount Vernon High School was granted a charter to establish a chapter of the National Honor Society. To be eligible for membership in this society, a senior must be in the upper third of his class and must show qualities of scholarship, service, leadership, and character. The seniors are elected by a committee from the faculty, but no more than fifteen percent of the entire class may be elected.

At an impressive ceremony sometime in May, these seniors are formally initiated into the society. They are not notified of their honor but are called from the audience after the program begins. Parents of the candidates are invited to attend the exercises, because election to this society is considered one of the highest honors a senior can achieve.

During the same assembly special honors are mentioned and awards are presented to students of the ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades who have won recognition in various departments during the year.

Athletics in the Past

Football Under the Floodlights

During the 1930's, night football became very popular all over the country. Naturally Mount Vernon wanted to keep up with other schools of its size. However, the only field the team had to play on was a rented one; so in September 1935 the present athletic field was purchased from Dale Barre. This was the same field on which they had played for years. The first Yellow Jacket teams played at Hiawatha Park and on the present baseball diamond of Riverside Park.

Work was begun on the new field as soon as contracts were released. The old field ran east and west, and the only means of keeping the crowd off the playing ground was a rather slack rope. During an exciting part of the game, many fans ran up and down the field yelling instructions to the players.

The new field was constructed to run north and south surrounded by a cinder track. Then there arose a need for a field house because players had to come clear back to the high school to shower and dress. The old Davis building had been razed and the stones had been left piled where they had fallen. A member of the school board suggested that this stone could be used to build a field house. This was done, and the present field house was erected in 1938. An additional dressing room was added in 1956.

Previous to the building of the field house, flood lights had been bought, and the first night game was played September 1937. Wooden bleachers were built at the time that the field was completed, and in 1948 steel bleachers were installed on the east side of the field. Anyone who contributed $15 was allowed to sit in the steel bleachers the first year. People who contributed to this fund still have the privilege of buying reserve seats in that section.

The entrance gates were the gift of the class of 1937.

In 1952 a new and better lighting system was installed and a new scoreboard erected.

A large bell which was mounted at the South end of the field was the same one that hung in the tower of the old Central Building. This has since been removed.

For several years Mr. Harold Highman acted as faculty manager of athletics, but as interest, receipts, and the need for more equipment grew, he became known as faculty business manager, a position he still holds.

Football has played an important part in the high school since the turn of the century. Basketball was introduced as a major sport in 1911. Track and baseball became prominent in the 1930's and a golf team made its appearance in 1943.

Today a strong intramural program gives both boys and girls a chance to participate in many sports.

Forty-seven Years Have Seen Many Changes in Basketball

Prior to 1911 there was no organized basketball in Mount Vernon. In 1910 a coachless group played Mansfield and were defeated 114 to 1. Mansfield piled up 88 points before Mount Vernon finally stripped the basket for one foul shot, its only score of the day. Barton Blair was the first coach, and he was not a member of the faculty. Since its beginning in high school, the Yellow Jackets have had twenty-three coaches.

Many good teams have been produced, but the 1922 one still stands out as the greatest. This team was runner up for national championship.

The best scoring team was in 1956. That year the team scored 1,670 points.

The best individual record was made in 1956-57 by Richie Hoyt with 50 points for one game, and 508 for the season.

The most points scored for a game on the home floor was in 1957 when the Jackets totaled 107 against Grandview. This year marked their worst defeat also, as Zanesville tripped them 112-63.

Student Council Was Organized Thirty-two Years Ago

The Student Council was organized in 1926. That was the first time in the history of Mount Vernon High School that students were given the privilege of helping make the rules of the school. The success of the Council in 1926 was so great that it was permanently established.

The purpose of the Council was to give the students a part in the management of the school functions. It was the first step taken toward student government.

The first Council was composed of six members from the senior class; five from the junior; four from the sophomore; and three from the freshmen. In each case the president of the class was a representative.

The group met for the first time December 9, 1925 and chose the following persons for their officers:

President Gordon Pumphrey
Vice-President Allin Kahrl
Secretary Houston Shields
Executive Committee — Gordon Pumphrey,
Evelyn Jones, Ann Platt Hartman, Allin
Kahrl, and Houston Shields.

During the first year the following recommendations were submitted to the students:

1. That the students refrain from loitering in the hall, and to keep locker doors closed or locked to prevent congestion in the halls.
2. That the students deposit waste paper in the waste paper baskets provided for that purpose.
3. That the eight minute period (which we no longer have) be repealed as the notices were not always sent around at that time, and because some students used it as a rest period.

The Council also co-operated at all times in promoting school events.

During recent years the Student Council has published a handbook called the "Crest," which is given to each student in school. It also purchased the juke box which is used at some of the dances. One of the highlights of the year is a dance sponsored by the Council, known as the "Student Shindig." The entire program is planned by the members of the Council.

Miss Audrey Wright, the present adviser, has had charge of the Student Council since 1947. Previous to Miss Wright's having charge of the Council, Mrs. Imogene Montgomery was the adviser.

Girls' Clubs

Girls' clubs began in the 1900's with a literary club called the Athenaeum. In 1928 Miss Laura Koons organized a chapter of the Girl Reserves, a national service club for high school girls.

The cabinet consisted of Frances Ward, president; Louise Cochran, vice-president; Edith Johnson, secretary; Esma Pilotti, treasurer; Louise Cochran, membership chairman; Imogene Denny and Evelyn Tarr, service chairmen; Ann Platt, social chairman; Betty Clawson, finance chairman; and Mildred Dennison, publicity chairman.

Miss Koons acted as adviser until 1939, and advisers since that time have been Mary Herron, Imogene Montgomery, Bernice Boner, Mary Mavromates, Clarice Luther, Maryalice Shockey, Bess Stauch, and Mary Tomb. The present advisers are Deborah Hoyt and Norma Hull.

In 1946 the name of the group was changed to Y-Teens. Under the able direction of Florence Cass who was head adviser for several years, the organization became affiliated with the Y. W. C. A.

The group has now become so large that it has been divided into two organizations. The club consisting of juniors and seniors is called Y-Teens, and the freshmen and sophomores are named Tri-Teens. Each division has its separate officers and cabinet. They usually have separate meetings, but for certain programs there are joint meetings. Both clubs perform services for the school and community, and raise money enough to give a worthy member money toward a college scholarship. Each year several members are sent to New York to a national conference.

The big social event of the year is the Y-Teen formal. The girls also entertain their mothers once a year at a banquet.

Future Teachers Were Organized in 1947 Followed by Future Nurses Ten Years Later

The Alice Cassell Chapter of the Future Teachers of America was founded October 13, 1947 under the leadership of Miss Fern Lewis. The club was named for Mrs. Alice Cassell, Latin teacher at Mount Vernon High School for many years. Mrs. Cassell later became adviser for the group. The first officers were Betty Turner, president; Paul Mentis, vice-president; Ann Adrion, secretary; and Mary Kathary, treasurer.

The members of the Future Teachers have regular meetings, and often act as substitutes in the grade schools. The main project is to raise money to provide a small scholarship for one of their members whose ambition it is to become a teacher. In 1947 there were 35 members, by 1956 Future Nurses had joined the group, and by 1957 the organization had become so large, that the nurses formed their own club.

Many of the Future Nurses act as nurses' aids at the local hospitals and take instruction from the school nurse. The first officers of the F. N. A. were Linda Ketner, president; Bonnie Wise, vice-president; Sharon Cornille, secretary; Nancy Martin, treasurer; and Janet Hostetler, historian. Mrs. Carole Walker, school nurse, was the adviser. Their year's project is to give a scholarship to a worthy member to enter nurse's training.

Future Home Makers Began

Thirty-two Years Ago

When courses in cooking and sewing were first introduced into high school curricula, it was dignified by the name of domestic science. Large city schools first equipped their buildings with stoves and sewing machines early in 1900. The popularity of this course spread to all parts of the country, and the name was changed to home economics. Gradually the study of foods, diets, textiles, and home-making was incorporated into the course.

The first Home Ec Club was founded in Mount Vernon High in 1936 by Miss Nellie Heffner who taught home economics in both grade school and high school for many years.

The officers for the original club were Leah Jean Singery, president; Helen Gamble, vice-president; Jane Faulkner, secretary and treasurer; and June Fox, reporter. The program chairman was Helen Byers.

This seemed to be a very busy group, because every week they served luncheon to various members of the faculty until all the teachers had been entertained. The girls sponsored a cake baking contest which was won by Gladys Woods, Miriam Corwin, and Mary Wolford.

The highlight of each year was to cook and serve a full course dinner to the Board of Education.

In 1939 a Chef Club was organized by some of the boys who thought it would be a good idea to learn how to cook. This organization lasted just a few years until the interest in it died.

Several years ago the Home Ec club became affiliated with the national organization known as The Future Home Makers of America. In conjunction with the Future Farmers, they have programs to foster better living. The girls also take part in state meetings and conventions. Mrs. Wanda Burwell is the leader of the club today.

Girls' Athletic Club Has

Had Ups and Downs

The first girls' athletic group was organized in 1930 by Miss Sara Cannon. This club was known as the Leaders Club. No regular meetings were held, and only a few intramural games were played. One interscholastic game was played with Howard High School, and Mount Vernon was defeated.

Miss Wilma Jones and Miss Viola Deibel continued the clubs when they were physical education directors. For a time, no club was organized, then under Miss Martha Shafer there were two clubs, one for junior high called the Girls' Athletic Club, and one for senior high called the Girls' Athletic Association.

Under the present director, Miss Nancy Stillwell, there is only one club known as the Girls' Athletic Association.

Some of the projects for the G. A. A. for the last two years have been interschool volleyball (varsity and reserve), interschool basketball, providing food and clothing for a needy family at Christmas time, meeting every other Thursday evening, club picnics and parties, and sponsoring an assembly.

This year for the first time the girls have raised money to provide a small scholarship fee for one of their members who will enter the field of physical education.

HI-Y FORMED IN 1922

Boys' clubs began in Mount Vernon High School as local fraternities. There were two of these groups, and they were purely social organizations. They boasted Greek names, and tried to emulate college fraternities. The boys even had club rooms in town.

The Board of Education soon frowned on these groups as non-democratic, and they were abandoned in favor of service groups.

About 1916 a boys' literary society was formed known as the Delphi Society. In the meetings the members had discussions of current problems pertaining to school or city. Once a year the boys entertained members of the Athenaeum Girls' Club, and sometimes the joint societies produced a play.

In 1922 a branch of the Y.M.C.A. was formed in the school, and this was known as the Hi-Y, an organization which is still in existence.

Their slogan was: "To create, maintain, and extend unostentatiously throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character." The boys help with school duties, and do things to improve the betterment of the high school. Mr. Spence was secretary of the Y.M.C.A. at the time the Hi-Y was organized, and Maurice Mitchell was the first leader.

THE KEY CLUB IS TEN YEARS OLD

The Key Club is sponsored by Kiwanis International and is a school service organization. The group was organized in the fall of 1948 and the following officers were installed: Wilbur Stump, president; Cecil Knerr, vice-president; Dave Wells, secretary; and Don Johnson, treasurer. The charter was received August 19, 1948 at a dinner given for the boys by the Kiwanis Club at the Alcove. There were twenty-three charter members.

The club has participated in such activities as selling concessions and programs at games, painting numbers on the seats in the auditorium, helping with clean-up campaigns, raising funds for a public address system, painting name plates over the doors in the west wing of the building, and buying yard markers for the football field. They also have a number of social affairs each year.

Future Farmers Have Been Active In High School Since 1930

Because George Washington was one of the most successful farmers of his generation, the Future Farmers of America celebrated the week of Washington's birthday every year by special activities.

The local chapter was granted a charter in 1930 when Mr. William Stuart was the instructor, and it has been one of the leading clubs of the school ever since. It is built on a foundation which includes leadership, character development, sportsmanship, improved agricultural organized recreation, citizenship, and patriotism.

There are four degrees of membership in the organization. These are Green Hand, Chapter Farmer, State Farmer, and American Farmer. The first two degrees are determined by the local chapter, the third by the state, and the last by the national organization. One member out of fifty receives the state honor, and about one out of 1000 receives the degree of American Farmer. Two Mount Vernon High School boys have received this honor. They are Carl Jennings in 1935 and Dean Beever in 1940.

Those from the local chapter who have received the State Farmer degree are Monroe Bouton, 1931; Richard Anderson, 1931; Richard Johnson, 1935; Carl Jennings, 1935; Francis Dalrymple, 1935; Frederick Coe, 1935; Warren

The chapter participates in various activities such as State Chapter contest, Parliamentary Procedure, and Public Speaking. The local F. F. A. has been awarded several gold, silver, and bronze ratings in the State Contest, and a number of the members have achieved honor in public speaking contests.

Each year the boys elect honorary members from the faculty or from persons in the community who have taken special interest in the F. F. A. Those on the faculty today who are honorary members are Mr. Charles Pickens, Mr. Max Wiggins, Mr. Harold Highman, Mr. J. F. Thomas, Mr. Kenneth West, Mr. L. L. Owen, Mrs. Ruth Truxall, and Miss Sara Cannon.

Mr. Clarence Fridline is the present adviser for the group, and he has served in that capacity since 1949. Preceding Mr. Fridline were Mr. Tom Berry, and Mr. William Stuart.

Quill and Scroll Society

Attracts Good Journalists

The Sara Cannon Chapter of the Quill and Scroll Society was granted a charter March 16, 1944. This is a national society for high school journalists and has chapters in schools all over the United States. To be eligible for membership in the society a student must be either a junior or a senior in the upper third of his class. Work on the Forum or the Jacket Journal in either the editorial or business field is necessary for membership.

In Mount Vernon High School the custom is to elect eligible juniors after they have completed a course in journalism. An election is also held the second semester for seniors who have done exceptional work in publications during their last year.

The charter members of the local chapter were Kathleen Fravel, James Doughty, Lowayne Johnson, Edward Taylor, Robert Bonnist, Mary Kaler, Marjorie Ferrell, Jean Cassell, Jane Yauger, Patricia Freshour, and Christine Johnson.

Since the founding of the local club, some honorary members from the faculty or citizens of the community who have an interest in journalism have been elected. Honorary members are Sara Cannon, adviser of publications since 1935; Gladys H. Baker, former Forum adviser; Helen C. Sevitts, second editor of Forum; Curtis Kinney, first editor of the Forum; Laura Koons, senior English teacher; Ruth Truxall and Pearl Carpenter, assistant advisers of Forum Follies.

Benefit Performance

The first movie house was located on South Main Street and was called the White Palace. In those days all sound effects were made by the pianist who had to be quite accomplished at watching the changing emotions on the dancing screen and making the music fit the moods of the actors.

The first talkies were brought to Mount Vernon about 1930 in the Old Vine Theater on West Vine Street.

Before the advent of movies, road shows and plays given by local talent were given in the opera house situated on the corner of West Vine and South Main Streets where Lemasters' store is now located.

The First "Forum" Queen

RUTH BEBOUT BALL

In going over the Forum files, the first account we found of a Forum Queen was in 1928, when Ruth (Bebout) Ball was crowned Carnival Queen. Mrs. Ball is the mother of six children now and a teacher in Amity High School.

Mrs. Ball said there was nothing spectacular about the Forum show in those days. At the end of the high school carnival, she went to room 31, where a small crown was placed on her head, the Carnival Crowd paused long enough for her to receive her crown, then immediately continued merry making. There was no program connected with the ceremony. The auditorium was not built until 1929.

The carnival idea was discontinued during World War II when articles to sell were hard to get. The Forum Show has now become so popular that it is given two nights. At this production the Forum Queen, her attendants, and court are presented to the public, and students with exceptional talent entertain the audience.

Dedication of the Beam Playground

May 28, 1930

Just at sunset on May 28, 1930, the Frank Beam Playground at the rear of the high school was dedicated for the enjoyment of all the boys and girls in the community.

The May Queen, Sue Sanderson, was crowned, and she and her attendants, along with several hundred spectators, watched a colorful and beautiful spring pageant.

All the schools in the city took part in the pageant, and the children did dances representing flowers, butterflies, birds, the wind, and other appropriate spring themes. Rebecca Coup portrayed "The Spirit of Spring."

The members of the boys' gym classes demonstrated tumbling and statue building.

Climaxing the entertainment, was a four Maypole dance of 128 high school girls all dressed alike in matching colors.

The whole program was under the direction of Sara Cannon and Angus King.

At one time a residence known as Thistle-ridge stood where the playground is today. This home was later converted into a hospital.

In 1929, Mr. Frank Beam, who was then president of the Board of Education, bought the hospital and grounds, had the building razed, and presented the ground to the Board of Education.

With the expanding building program, part of the ground has had to be used for building the music and industrial arts areas. However, both the boys' and girls' gym classes today use the playground in the fall and spring for outdoor games.

"The Varsity Follies"

The "Varsity Follies" was the first presentation of its kind ever to be attempted in Mount Vernon High School. Under the able direction of Coach Paul Snyder, an all male cast of varsity letter men presented a ten act show that was such a success they had to give a repeat performance the following year. The acts included: tumbling, pyramid building, several original skits, a harem scene with the boys doing a chorus dance that was highly entertaining to the audience, and a number of unusual tableaux. The tableaux depicted different scenes of athletic activities, and the participants were covered with gold paint. Playing before a capacity house both nights, the event proved a tremendous success. Notice that Coach Houston Schlosser was a member of the chorus.

Mr. H. O. Wintermute organized the first marching band in Mount Vernon High School. The group is pictured above, and while they marched at every football game, there were not enough of them to make any intricate formations. Mr. Wintermute also directed the orchestra and choir, produced an operetta every year, and taught five classes in English Literature. He left the teaching profession to go into the antique business, but his interest in music is still his avocation.

The music department has had many able leaders such as Dr. Gene Taylor, who is now music director at Capital University; Dr. Bill Root who left music to further his work in school administration. He received his master's degree at Ohio State University, and in June 1958 the same university conferred a doctor's degree on him. Dr. Root has been assistant superintendent of the Mount Vernon School system since 1954. Mr. Jack Stauch replaced Mr. Root, and is still the head of the music department. Mr. Stauch has been instrumental in increasing the band membership to more than one hundred fast-stepping musicians, and their usual half-time shows delight the crowds at every home football game.

Mr. John Mazarak was the orchestra leader for several years, and he is now teaching music at Bexley High School.

This year the assistant music directors are Mr. Norbert Kramer and Mr. Robert Bechtel.

DAN EMMETT, Author and Composer of "Dixie"

No history of music in Mount Vernon would be complete without mentioning Dan Emmett, the author and composer of the famous "Dixie," a popular minstrel number of the late 90's. Mr. Emmett was born in Mount Vernon, and became one of the end men in a minstrel show. Later he returned to his home town where he died. A votive stone on the Memorial Building grounds commemorates his work, and Mr. H. O. Wintermute is the author of Emmett's biography.

Time Marches On

One hundred years — a rather impressive length of time, and yet not nearly so impressive as all the events that took place during that century. Mount Vernon High School can now boast of clubs, athletic programs, and scholastic opportunities which all had their beginnings during that period and have grown to meet present-day requirements.

"So what?" one might ask. "Isn't that what has taken place in every other high school in existence?" Yes, but does admitting this fact lessen the significance of what our high school has achieved? Just as the seniors of 1958 have felt a particular pride in their being a part of the centennial celebration, so has every past class been aware of its contributions to the school and the benefits they have derived.

It is this feeling of school spirit that cannot be instilled too deeply in prospective graduates. To this end, let all underclassmen leaf through their annuals and come to recognize the many opportunities offered them in their remaining high school years. The only limits imposed are those regarding Time. So, underclassmen, to make every minute count:

Take Time To...

Dr. John C. Drake

Appreciate Others' Efforts

For the first time in its history the Forum staff has chosen to dedicate the yearbook to a man, who, although he is not a member of the high school faculty, has done a great deal for the school. Dr. John Drake was a member of our local school board for seven years and served as its president for two. He has been physician for the athletic teams for many years. As an outstanding citizen in our community, he has always contributed his time and energy in the interest of students. His advice and the use of his library have aided many a struggling student.

For his active interest in all branches of our educational system, for his faithful service as a member of the Board of Education, for his un-failing devotion to Mount Vernon High's athletic teams, we are proud to dedicate the 1958 Forum to Dr. John C. Drake.

At the banquet honoring the undefeated champions of the Central Buckeye League, Dr. John Drake was presented an autographed raincoat in appreciation of his service to the team.

Our hero to the rescue as Coach Ben Wilson, referee, and assistant anxiously watch the treatment of Roger Thompson's eye.

Realize the Value of Your School

Day and night the high school plays a prominent part in the lives of the youth of Mount Vernon. By day, the students receive instruction from competent teachers. At night, the teen-agers return to participate in or to watch games, plays, concerts, or social activities.

Administration

Our Leaders Provide

PRINCIPAL

H. Max Wiggins

Ohio State University: B.S., M.A.

Mr. Wiggins has no trouble filling the school calendar.

Mr. Wiggins, our one for all, all for one principal, in two short years has earned the respect and admiration of both the student body and faculty through his easy-going, yet efficient manner. Pupils come to him with their problems and quips knowing that he will find time to listen to them. His contagious enthusiasm has infected the school with a new spirit of cooperation.

Guidance

SUPERINTENDENT

Charles J. Pickens

Rio Grande College, Ohio University,
Ohio State University: B.S., M.A.

Mr. Pickens' promotion to the superintendency of Mount Vernon schools two years ago was learned with mixed feelings. As a popular and familiar figure in the high school hall, he was missed by the students; but his effort and progressive spirit have been beneficial to the educational system. He has been particularly instrumental in getting plans underway for the new junior high building.

Mr. Pickens plans for the new junior high.

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT

Bill Root

Ohio State: B.S., M.A., Ph.D.

Mr. Root, a valuable asset to our school system, ably carries out his duties as assistant superintendent and pupil co-ordinator.

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

John Warrick

Manchester College: B.S.,
Kent State: M.E.

Mr. Warrick is well-known among the junior high students as a sympathetic and competent adviser.

Mount Vernon Board of Education

BOARD OF EDUCATION — Hazel Vernon, James Brown, George Gelsanliter, William Ward, Mary Minnich. NOT IN PICTURE: Leland Fair.

One of the major projects undertaken by the Board of Education this year was the planning of the new junior high school. The remainder of their work evolved around maintaining an efficient educational system.

DEAN OF GIRLS

Audrey Wright

Muskingum College, B.S.

Ohio State University, M.A.

Miss Audrey Wright's function as dean provides an opportunity for the high school girls to discuss their problems and receive understanding help. Donna Ables and Susie Minnich, students in her sociology class, talk over their future college plans.

DEAN OF BOYS

Rex Jarvis

West Virginia, A.B.

Boys come regularly to Mr. Rex Jarvis for advice and guidance. Particularly popular with the football team, he is seen here counseling Steve Peterson.

Mrs. Elda Behnke

Although we have never heard of a teacher who has taught one hundred years; when it comes time to retire, most of them feel as if they had. However, from Mrs. Behnke's smiling face, we are sure that she has enjoyed her profession.

This teacher has taught eighth and ninth grade English in Mount Vernon High School for fourteen years, and now she feels that she has earned the right to some relaxation and fun. Our best wishes go with her as she enters her retirement.

Classes

At the Country Club, the class dances to the smooth music of Ken Bague. The dreamy atmosphere makes "Memory Lane" a special night in the lives of many to be long remembered.

Proms Leave Seniors Lasting Memories

"Tropical Paradise" — in the cleverly decorated gym, the guest seniors and their dates dance under swaying palm trees beside the ocean. Before intermission, Connie Gray has a cute story to tell the gang.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS — President Jeff Walker, Secretary Sheila Ralston, Treasurer Beverly Bond, Vice President Ted Beach.

The first graduating class of Mount Vernon High School consisted of three seniors. Today, in this, the one hundredth class, one hundred sixty-nine students received diplomas. Graduating on June 10, 1958, was quite a goal for our class on first entering the doors of Mount Vernon High as lowly seventh graders. The last two years have provided many beneficial and rewarding experiences.

The class of '58 boldly started off their junior year with the signing of petitions for class officers. This, in itself, was thrilling, as we realize we were well on our way as a class, a class working together. Eagerly we voted on and selected our rings. Later in the year, we presented the hilarious comedy, "Onions in the Stew," and finally as a farewell gift to the seniors, we planned and held the Junior-Senior prom — the theme was Oriental Gardens.

Now, the impressive title of "Senior" was at long last ours. Once more petitions were circulated and signed. The results showed Jeff Walker as class president; Ted Beach, vice-president; Sheila Ralston, secretary; and Beverly Bond, treasurer.

Name cards and senior pictures began circulating, as customary.

In the spring, we threw ourselves into a state of "hibernation," and after what seemed to be years, we came up with our masterpieces — the senior themes.

Twenty-six seniors were elected to the National Honor Society, twenty-three to Quill and Scroll.

Varied panel discussions, as a change of pace, took place in the senior English classes.

Numerous arguments were hashed and rehashed over what the class gift of 1958 would be. We finally decided to leave a juke box to the underclassmen.

Senior Lois Ewalt reigned over the Forum Show as sweetheart of Mount Vernon High.

Presented May 16, was a dramatization of Jane Austen's novel, "Pride and Prejudice."

The spurring last minute whirl-wind events crowded together into one grand finale. The flurry of Senior Day, the enjoyable Junior-Senior prom, the cramming for exams, the Senior prom we shall never forget, the Baccalaureate services, and the teary-eyed graduation.

After receiving our treasured diplomas, we realize — now, we too are ALUMNI!

Excitement ran high after commencement. June 10. The main halls were crowded with scenes such as the one pictured of Judy Reed showing her diploma to Delores Bradley, Pam Mintier, and Elise Rice.

One hundred and sixty-nine diplomas were presented to the Class of 1958 Jim Willis receives his diploma from Mrs. Mary Minnich, a member of the Board of Education.

Test tubes in hand, these juniors of the chemistry underworld seem quite intrigued with Terry Tucker's scientific techniques. Perhaps another Einstein is in our midst?

Juniors Work Together

For A Successful Year

One of the more unpleasant episodes in the life of a junior is taking the Iowa State Tests.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS — Vice-President Mike Duckworth, Adviser Mr. Jack Wilson, Secretary Sharon Cornille, President Jacques Transue, Treasurer Judy Perrin.

The class of 1959 officially began their class activities with the fall election of the junior class officers. Jacques Transue was chosen to lead his class; others elected were Mike Duckworth, vice president; Sharon Cornille, secretary; and Judy Perrin, treasurer.

The ring committee, with the help of Mr. Lawrence Yarman, began the big task of selecting a class ring. The final choice was an attractive white gold one.

In the spring some of the junior class members showed undiscovered talent when they acted in the class play, "Two's A Crowd." This hilarious comedy was a big success.

Entertaining the seniors at the Junior-Senior Prom was the top social event for the juniors. "Tropical Paradise" was chosen as the theme of the dance held on May 29.

For the first time in the history of Mount Vernon High School, juniors were elected to the National Honor Society. This is the highest honor the school can bestow. Those initiated into the society should be proud of this honor and try to uphold the ideals of the organization.

Mr. Yarman, Mr. Jack Wilson, and Mrs. Jean Shick guided the class throughout the year as the advisers.

Climaxed Second Undefeated Season

To the showers goes coach Ben Wilson, as the Wilsonmen celebrated their lopsided victory over Grandview. The greatest team in Mount Vernon's history was ranked thirteenth in the state by Ohio's sports writers. Led by the one-two punch of Brice Hess and Roger Thompson, the Jackets rewrote most of the local football record books. As a reward for their efforts, nine of these champions were lauded with C.B.L. or All State honors.

Top: Brice Hess slices through the Bexley line with plenty of blocking ahead.

Bottom: Shoulder pads clash as Roger Thompson picks up 33 yards

Right: Urbana's forward pass is just out of the reach of Mount Vernon's defender, Gary Nell.

With a combination of hard work and one of the best coaching staffs in Mount Vernon's history, the Mount Vernon Yellow Jackets garnered another undefeated season.

COSHOCTON (14-12) In their first game of the season, the Mounties replied with a last minute victory over Coshocton Redskins. Through a knee injury, the fine abilities of senior end Jeff Walker were lost.

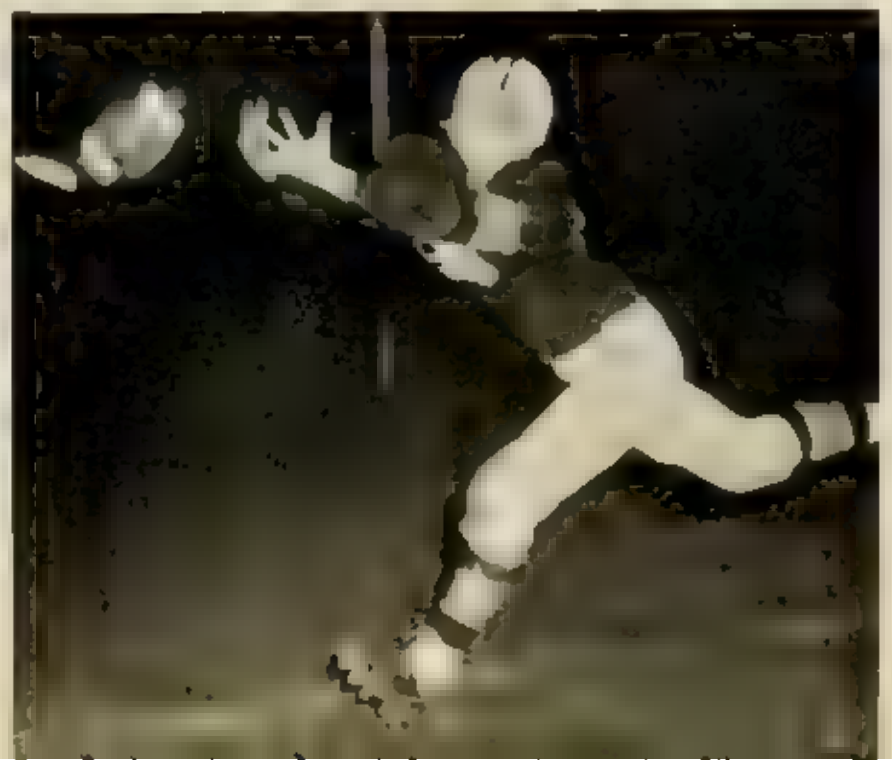

MANSFIELD MADISON (28-13) The Rams were the next victims to visit the West High Stadium. This game saw the beginning of the Hess-Thompson punch.

UPPER ARLINGTON (7-0) The Golden Bears seemed to mix up the Jackets by using a newly developed split T. Brice Hess was credited with the only touchdown of the game. Centered around Willis Rummel and Jerry Harper, the Mount Vernon defense proved to be a stone wall as Arlington's score was held to a flat zero.

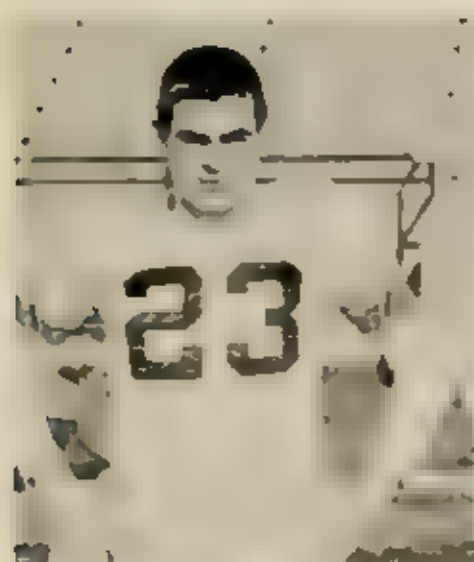

BEXLEY (27-6) A long Bexley pass resulted in the only touchdown scored against the Mounties in C. B. L. competition.

DELAWARE (39-0) A homecoming crowd of 4,500 was pleased to see the Jackets white-wash the Willis Panthers. All the Jacket touchdowns came on straight power plays.

URBANA (48-0) The Mounties invaded the home of Urbana. Throughout the encounter, Roger Thompson brought the fans to their feet as he smashed up the middle for five touchdowns.

WOOSTER (45-0) Terrific line play plus excellent play calling by quarterback Bruce Tramont enabled the Jackets to roll over the Generals.

CULVER MILITARY ACADEMY (53-7) The boys of the Culver Military Academy traveled 240 miles only to suffer their worst defeat of the season. Brice Hess was credited with four first half td's.

GRANDVIEW (64-0) Fumbles spelled defeat for the Bobcats as the alert Jacket eleven capitalized on every break. Even as the bench was cleared, the Mounties continued to penetrate the goal line.

All C.B.L. Teams

For the second straight year, Mount Vernon High landed nine Yellow Jackets on the All Central Buckeye League first team, which was selected by the league coaches. Five other members of the team received honorable mention.

The outstanding players selected for their offensive accomplishments were end Jim Factor, tackle Steve Peterson, guard Jerry Harper, halfback Brice Hess, and fullback Roger Thompson.

Lauded for their defensive skills were end Gary Rine, guard Willis Rummel, linebacker Ron Stoneburner, and halfback Larry Savage.

Rine, Rummel, Thompson, and Stoneburner were all league repeaters.

Jackets Finish Second In C. B. L.

After getting off to a slow start, Coach Schlosser's basketball team reached its peak midway through the season. By winning six straight games, the Jackets rose as a contender for the C. B. L. title. However, late season upsets stymied our hopes.

In the first league encounter, senior guard Bruce Tramont sizzled the nets with 24 points against the Delaware Panthers. Although tall, six feet four inch Lon Rine tossed in 21 points, arch-rival Newark set back the Mounties. Jerry Miller's fancy ball handling sparked the Jackets to revenge against the Newark Wildcats. The Schlossermen defeated Upper Arlington and, though Lanny McManis swished several side shots, lost a heartbreaker to Bexley. Surprised by a fired up Grandview squad, the Mounts were outscored and ousted from the league race. With the title out of reach, the basketball team closed the home schedule by again routing the Upper Arlington Golden Bears.

The Central Buckeye League coaches chose three Yellow Jackets for All C. B. L. berths. Center Lon Rine was selected for first team, forward Gary Nell, second team; and guard Bruce Tramont, honorable mention.

Batmen Won School's First Baseball Championship

Third-sacker Bob Dudgeon smacks a Mansfield Madison hurler's pitch for a double.

Bolstered by a good crop of veteran seniors, the Jacket Base ball Team won Mount Vernon High's first baseball championship. Coach Stanley's baseball club earned a very creditable record of thirteen wins, four losses, and one tie.

Highlights of the victorious season were a twelve inning deadlock with Columbus Central and a 2-1 defeat to league runner-up Bexley.

The Champions placed pitcher Lanny McManis, catcher Joe Roberts, third baseman Bob Dudgeon, shortstop Gary Gray, and center-fielder Roger Thompson on the All C. B. L. first team. First sacker John Warman received honorable mention.

Speedy Roger Thompson races around third base to score after Joe Roberts singled.

All Western Ohio pitcher-shortstop Gary Gray fires a fast ball past an enemy batter.

School Democracy Through Student Council

JUNIOR HIGH STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS — President Nicky Kreutz, Secretary Sherri Scott, Vice President Jane Painter, Treasurer Patty Wynn.

The Student Council is an organization which serves as the voice of the student body. The Student Council encourages good conduct in school, promotes general student welfare, and makes recommendations to the school officials for any necessary changes. Under the leadership of President Lanny McManis, the Student Council sponsored the annual Courtesy Week, the Student Shindig, assisted in organizing a C. B. L. Inter-School Council, and supported the Salvation Army by collecting canned goods at Christmas.

To campaign for courteousness among students, the Student Council sponsors an annual all school party, The Student Shindig, and honors the most courteous boy and girl in each class. Albert Banning and Dick Christopher help Greg Chester dress up the old gym.

Athletes Awarded Membership In N. A. S. S.

Eligibility to membership in the National Athletic Scholarship Society is limited to boys earning an athletic letter and whose grade average for three consecutive semesters is equal to or higher than the general average of the school. They must have exemplified the highest type of citizenship and sportsmanship. Mount Vernon High School is fortunate to have had twelve who met these standards.

Character

The Hi-Y Club, led by President Myron Gallogly, was active again this year. They worked at the concession stand after every home football game and sponsored two dances. Because of no snow, the Hi-Y's famed shovel brigade was idle. The club placed and collected March of Dimes' containers at Easter. They sponsored two delegates to the Annual Youth and Government Convention in Columbus, Ohio. In collaboration with the Y-Teens for the Easter Sunrise Service, they contributed to World Service.

The Red House Mystery

The All High School Play, The Red House Mystery, was presented on November 15, 1957. Antony Gillingham, amateur detective, ably solved the murder of Mark Ablett, the host at Red House, with the aid of the other weekend guests. The suspenseful drama was well done and provided exciting entertainment.

The symbol of the "Red House Mystery" is pointed directly at its victim.

Linda Devin, appearing as a ghost, frightened Zale Smilack, the host at Red House.

The weekend guests of Mark Ablett, Zale Smilack, enjoyed their afternoon coffee together.

Sheila Earnest, Judy Engel, and Dixie McCord served the weekend guests well.

The cast was thoroughly questioned by Inspector Birch, Dave Guellette, about Mark Ablett's murder.

Two's

The junior class play committee chose "Two's A Crowd," a three act comedy, which was presented March 28. Three teenagers, left to their own resources, turned their home into a boarding house, which promptly became quarantined because of a case of measles, and hilarity followed as mystery deepened around their strange boarders.

Ann Withgott, as Mrs. Maxwell, gives her children some last-minute advice before leaving.

Shall we dance? Beth Banning and Gary Koch give Arthur Murray some competition in this scene.

Jacques Transue and Judy Perrin receive a lecture from David Gueulette.

Pride and Prejudice

The seniors chose a costume play "Pride and Prejudice," for their class play. Quite a contrast to previous productions, the play tells the story of Mrs. Bennet's determination to get her three daughters married to wealthy bachelors.

Col. Fitzwilliam has a serious conversation with Lady Catherine about Mr. Bingley.

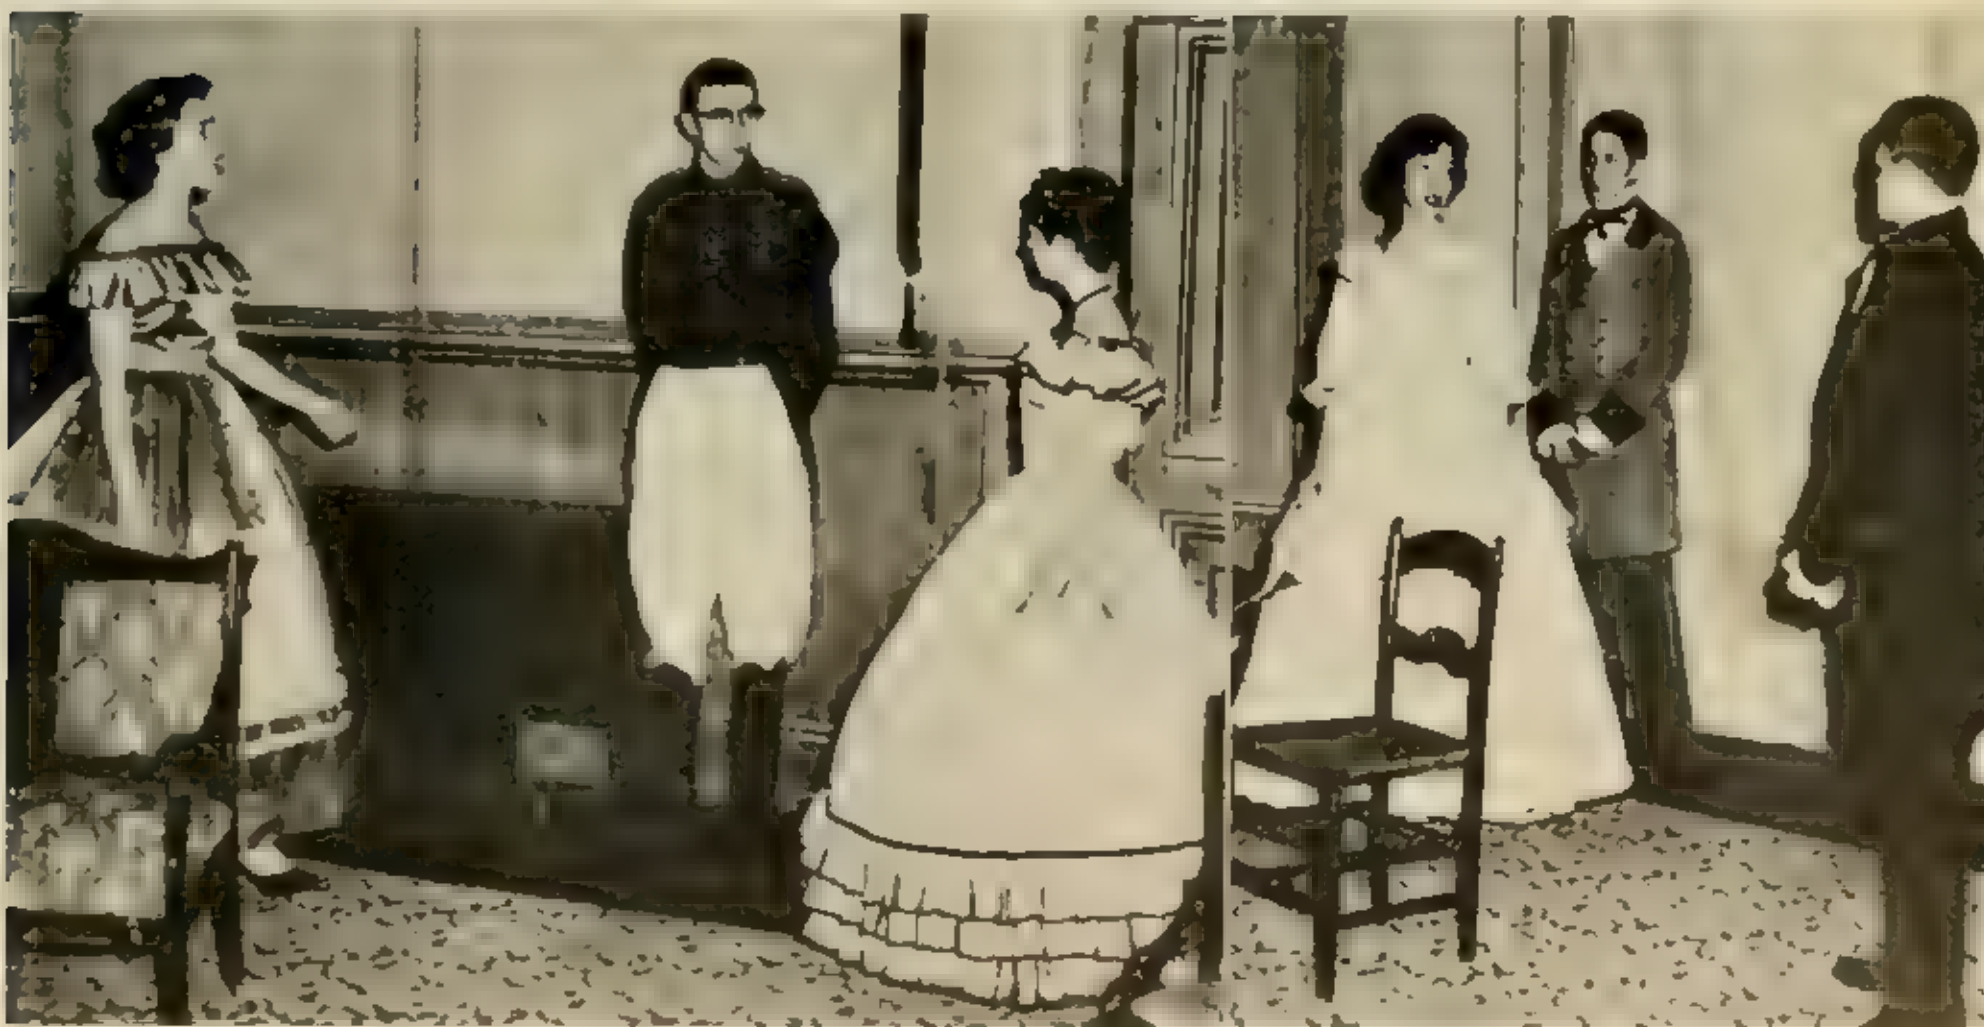

Miss Bingley tries to encourage Mr. Collins to marry Elizabeth.

Mr Bennet announces to his daughters that Mr. Collins is coming to visit them.

Jane seeks the advise of her aunt, Mrs. Gardiner.

Outside the ballroom, Amelia, Captain Denny, and Lydia wait for refreshments.

Lady Catherine counsels Mr. Collins before he talks with Elizabeth.

The student leaders of the band, a master sergeant, row sergeants, and corporals, are selected by the directors, Mr. Jack Stauch and Mr. Robert Bechtel, at the annual camp held in August. This organization has helped tremendously in creating enthusiasm among the members of the student body.

We the class of 1958, sincerely hope that this spirit will continue through the next hundred years.

To Express Talent

This spring, for the first time since 1906, Mount Vernon High School presented the operetta, Victor Herbert's "Babes in Toyland."

The operetta begins with an Overture which sets the atmosphere of the musical style. The scene opens with a picnic given by the villain, Barnaby (Stanley Wallace), at which he is almost drowned in the lemonade. Later in the scene, his nephew Alan (Myron Gallogly), posing as a gypsy, does a little dance. A high point of the scene is the arrival of eight Dandies to the garden of Mary (Ina Walker). The scene closes with Victor Herbert's well known song, "I Can't Do the Sum." The second scene takes place in the Spider Forest where Jane (Jane McDonald) and Alan are lost. The second act is at Toyland, the one in which Barnaby is finally overthrown and happiness rules.

The combined talents of the choir, orchestra, faculty members, and other students went into this production. Under the direction of Mr. Jack Stauch this operetta proved to be the most spectacular musical activity of the year.

The entire cast of "Babes in Toyland." after a colorful and sparkling performance.

Seen with his camera at athletic games, plays, concerts, dances, and in the halls is Steve Day. The Staff receives most of the candids through the efforts of Steve.

As Stage Manager, Greg Chester keeps plays, concerts, the Forum Show, and other school productions running smoothly.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

We, the Forum Staff of 1958, wish to express our deepest thanks and appreciation to those who have been of such great assistance in helping us try to produce a successful yearbook.

We can never thank our advisers, Miss Sara Cannon and Mr. Arthur Cassell, enough for the wise counseling, inexhaustible patience, and many hours of hard work which they so willingly gave.

Our appreciation goes to The Manufacturing Printers Company for their excellent printing job, and to the Publications Department of the Jahn and Ollier Engraving Company for their competent service.

The fine work done by Mr. Don Garverick, Mr. Guy Lipps, and Mr. James Israel on the senior and junior pictures and group photos deserves a vote of thanks.

We wish to thank Paul Slaughter and Virgil Shipley of The Mount Vernon News, and Gene's Clothing Store for letting us use their pictures of the football and baseball seasons.

Much time, effort, and expense have been used to provide a permanent record, attractively presented and complete in every detail. The Staff has worked exceedingly hard to produce a book which portrays the high lights of the one hundredth year of Mount Vernon High School.

HUMAN TIME

moves, as up a pyramid, step by step. Each step, a generation, rising to a new challenge, striking out into creative areas untried by man. The steps ascend. Challenges grow in magnitude. And the relevance of the civilization's basic philosophy is stretched to the breaking point.

Crucial conflicts appear. Social disintegration sets in. America's young generation can detect the signs of it in our society.

Our challenge is to apply science to morality. This will broaden the philosophical base of our civilization. Without this our civilization will topple, top heavy with discoveries in the physical sciences.

KANT combined the spiritual discoveries of the Middle Ages with the rational spirit of the French Revolution and discovered the seed of reason in morality. He might have explained it this way:

Here is a critique of pure reason to test the morality of any act. Let's apply this critique, for example, to falsehood. Try to imagine EVERYONE ALWAYS lying. No true statements are being made, no truth may be known, therefore the falsehood of no statement may be known, and lying becomes a logical self-contradiction. - - Universalize in your mind any act, if it remains logical in its universal form it is moral, but if it becomes self-contradictory, it is not moral.

HEGEL was Kant's student. He might have replied this way: "You're right, Mr. Kant, but you have it inside out! According to your law of universality, the universals exist only in men's minds, while in reality they exist outside men; they form the very framework on which the universe hangs. In the beginning was the IDEA. This produced something new and different, yet containing elements of the first two: HUMANITY. This illustrates the logic of universals (dialectic logic): Any universal (THESIS) produces its opposite (ANTITHESIS), and the conflict between the two produces a completely new universal (SYNTHESIS) yet containing elements of the thesis and the antithesis.

MARX was Hegel's student. He might have replied this way: "You're right, Mr. Hegel, but you have it upside down! The universe did not start with IDEA, the only reality is MATTER! The dialectic logic explains man's universal material struggle for control of the means of production."

KANT, HEGEL and MARX were all dialectic philosophers. Kant and Hegel agreed that universals were ideal in nature. Marx argued that they were material. This conflict is resolved in discovering that the dialectic is really spiritual. (As IDEA and MATTER produced HUMANITY dialectically, so humanity being -mind and emotion becomes spiritual dialectically.) Hegel and Marx agreed that universals had objective existence outside of individual minds. Kant argued that they are only subjective and inside men. This conflict operates between spiritual expressions or "beliefs," outside in the objective world when believers fight against believers, but subjectively inside men, when the rule of Dialectic Spirituality is followed:

We can be sure of one thing only: that any belief we hold in the pleasure of pride and with the force of conviction is only half right. Change is painful. It is especially painful to admit error in our fundamental beliefs. The emotion of proud conviction automatically rises to keep the soul from becoming a spiritual battleground. Thus an obviously conflicting belief is kept in the mind, but out of the soul by the force of conviction. The function of denial gives conviction its strength. But Dialectic Spirituality requires not only an open mind but also an open heart. Suffering the pain of spiritual conflict in our souls is the Promise of Peace.

The Promise of Peace is the basis of a new Midwestern Civilization, the first culture worthy of the name, and world peace.

This concept is explained more fully in a little book called "Promise of Peace" available at Ringwalt's.

Here in the Accessory and Hardware Division, Manufacturing Plant of the Ford Motor Company, Rawsonville, Michigan, two Cooper-Bessemer JM compressors furnish compressed air for general factory and production facilities.

The rugged construction and dependability of these 2-cylinder motor-driven compressors, each rated 600 hp at 300 rpm, assures trouble-free service for many future years. Extreme compactness reduces foundationing and needed floor space, saving installation time and cost. Natural force balance contributes to vibration-free operation and lower maintenance. Find out for yourself how Cooper-Bessemer's economically answer every plant air problem.

Motor-driven, turbine-driven, engine-driven . . . Cooper-Bessemer M-Line compressors are available in sizes from 200 to 6,000 horsepower and for pressures to 15,000 and vacuums.

Squawk Box

You can squawk all you want about how your government is being run. You can squawk to your family, your neighbors, the boys at the shop, or your barber—anyone who'll listen. Or you can praise your government. But your squawks and praise won't pay off unless you deposit them in the ballot box.

The right to a secret ballot gives you an actual voice in your government. By casting your ballot at election time, you can help decide who is going to run the show.

It's not like this in every country. Behind the Iron Curtain there's a lot to squawk about. But people have to keep it to themselves. If you complain out loud, you may get a one-way ticket to Siberia. At election time you may get a ballot, but there'll only be one person to vote for.

But in America you can choose. And choosing means that you've got to do some serious thinking to make sure you vote for the right man.

The secret ballot is a right you don't exercise every day. But the fact that elections are not daily occurrences makes the right all the more important. And the guy who fails to vote has lost the right to squawk.

Think it over—and then make sure you vote. It's your right; so treat it right.

"The right to work shall not be abridged nor made impotent"

DO YOU KNOW YOUR RIGHTS? As Americans, we have the greatest freedom and the highest standard of living in the world. Help keep it that way by knowing your rights and guarding them well. Some of them are:

Freedom of worship

Right to secret ballot

*Right to know how your union spends your dues

Freedom of speech

Freedom of the press

Right to criticize officials

*Right to know salaries of your union officers

Freedom from search without warrant

Right to petition government for redress of grievances

*Right to know if your union officers are Communists

*Right to know how your union is run

Right to speedy and public trial by jury

Right to help of a lawyer

*Right to hear your employer's side of disagreements

Right not to appear as a witness against yourself

*Right to refuse to permit the "check-off" of union dues

*Right to go direct to your boss with a grievance

Right to be presumed innocent until proved guilty

Freedom to own property

*Right to work despite union jurisdictional disputes

Freedom to work in any locality

*Right to proper supervision of your union welfare funds

Freedom to start and manage a business

Freedom to make a profit

*Right not to be fired by union leaders

Right to vote on company's best offer

*These are rights you enjoy under the Taft-Hartley law

This is a right enjoyed by members of United Steel Workers, C.I.O. only when the Taft-Hartley law is invoked

MUSIC

The Saturday Junior DJ Show with Bruce Tramont and Willie Rummel was scheduled every Saturday afternoon during the winter months over WMVO. Students from the various schools were invited to participate. Mayor Phil Mauger gave trophies to the outstanding DJ's. This year the trophies were presented to Sally Hamms and Connie Porterfield of Gambier, Jack Peterman and Ronnie Staats of Mount Vernon.

NEWS

Knox County Elementary Supervisor Mrs. Henry Koontz and Supervisor of Mount Vernon Elementary Schools Mr. Max Evans combined their efforts to bring "School Notes" Sunday 1:15 p. m. and "School Forum" Sunday 2:05 p. m. to the community. These programs have been presented as a public service over WMVO for the past seven years.

SPORTS

A COMPLETE ROSTER OF THE GRADUATES OF MOUNT VERNON HIGH SCHOOL

This roster was compiled from the 1927 FORUM and from the files in the superintendent's office. In some cases it was difficult to obtain a woman's married name, but the staff hopes that all Mount Vernon High graduates are listed here.

A Look Into the Future

grown their quarters in the new building, and another area was added to the rear of the girls' gym for these two subjects.

Now, as we begin the second century of high school in Mount Vernon, we find we are still growing, and a new building is being erected which will be devoted entirely to the junior high school group. This building which will be situated on East Pleasant Street will be the first one to be built and equipped as a junior high school only.

From Civil War Days to the Atomic Age, Mount Vernon school pupils have moved from a log cabin room to a million dollar high school, a junior high school for seventh and eighth graders, and seven grade school buildings; from one teacher to a staff of 138 including six special instructors; a superintendent with two assistants and four secretaries; a high school principal with an assistant and three secretaries; a dean of girls and a dean of boys. Seventeen custodians are employed to take care of the school buildings, and ten buses bring children from outlying districts to the city schools because there are no more so-called county schools.

In 1858 the first successful Atlantic cable was laid. Today, one hundred years later, we span the Atlantic between breakfast and dinner. Then the only means of land transportation was the horse and buggy. Today we are penetrating outer space with rockets. As we begin our second century, we wonder what the interests of the pupils of Mount Vernon High School will be in the year 2058.

Educational Opportunities Increased

On June 26, 1958, ground was broken for the construction of the new junior high school. This new building offers the seventh and eighth grade students increased and improved facilities. They include eighteen classrooms, two science rooms, a demonstration-type laboratory, a small greenhouse, a general shop area, home economics, and arts and crafts departments. A large gymnasium, cafeteria, and a suite of offices are also planned. A public address system is being installed throughout the building.

The school, costing in excess of seven hundred thousand dollars, is scheduled for completion July 15, 1959; over six hundred students are expected to enter it that fall.
